

'Speak up Do something about it'

Aboriginal complaints video resource

If you have a complaint,
it's important that you
'Speak up – Do something about it'

The Health and Disability Services Complaints Office (HaDSCO) provides a free, independent and impartial service to help work towards resolving complaints, for issues relating to health, disability and mental health services. We encourage people to contact our Office if they have a complaint, as by letting us know about issues within these sectors, we can identify problems and put measures in place to address them.

Our specially trained staff are available Monday – Friday, 8.30am - 4.30pm.
They will take you through the necessary steps in raising your complaint.

HaDSCO has developed an Aboriginal complaints video resource -
'Speak up – Do something about it' - to highlight real-life scenarios and situations that might give rise to complaints. Developed in partnership with Yorgum Aboriginal Corporation, the video features members of Perth's Noongar community. Take a look at the video at HaDSCO's website:
